In the game, a player places a wager and chooses a target multiplier (e.g., 2.0 x, 10x, or even 1,000 x). The game's algorithm then generates a random multiplier outcome. If the generated outcome amounts to or higher than the gamer's chosen target, the bet wins. If the result falls short, the bet is lost.

Its minimalist design-- generally including simply a couple of input boxes, a huge multiplier display screen, and a roll button-- makes it a preferred for players who choose busy action without visual clutter.

After a round concludes, players can input the seeds into a verification tool to verify the outcome was completely legitimate.
