- Throwing away the paperwork before the tax return is filed
- Assuming a landlord, rental property, or second home follows the same rules as a primary residence

If you are unsure, ask the contractor or a tax professional to help you sort the documents before the project is finished.

When A Door Replacement Makes Sense Even Without The Credit

The credit is useful, but it should not be the only measure of value.

A proper replacement often improves more than the energy bill.

That is usually the sign of a solid upgrade, not just a clever purchase.

That combination is what makes the project worthwhile.
