Hit and Run Accident Help in Midland TX Get somewhere safe, then call 911 or the Midland Police Department. That's the first move after a hit and run, even if the other car is long gone and your injuries seem minor. A police report creates an official record of what happened, and your insurance company will likely want to see it before paying on an uninsured motorist claim. If the crash happened on a county road or a state highway outside city limits, the sheriff's office or a DPS trooper may respond instead. Drivers who flee rarely leave without a trace. Write down everything you remember about the vehicle as soon as you can: color, make, damage, direction of travel and even a partial plate. Look around for witnesses and ask for their phone numbers before they drive away. Then think about cameras. Along Big Spring Street, Loop 250 north and the shopping areas near Midland Park Mall, many businesses have security cameras aimed toward the road. Gas stations, banks and restaurants in downtown Midland and east Midland often do too. That footage may be recorded over within days, so asking quickly matters. Check your own phone and car too. A dash camera, or a photo you snapped without thinking, can hold more detail than you remember. If the driver is never found, your own policy may still help. Texas requires insurers to offer uninsured motorist coverage, and it is included in your policy unless you rejected it in writing. That coverage can apply when a hit and run driver can't be identified, though insurers usually have conditions, such as prompt reporting. Personal injury protection, or PIP, may also cover some medical bills and lost wages regardless of who was at fault. Keep in mind that your own insurer can still push back, and a claim with your own company isn't always as smooth as people expect.

The Doan Law Firm offers free consultations at its West Illinois Avenue office, so you can find out whether your Midland crash needs legal help before you commit to anything. For a small bumper scrape with no injuries, you may not need one at all, and the team will tell you so. What percentage do accident attorneys usually take? Most car accident lawyers work on contingency, meaning the fee is a percentage of what they recover and nothing if they lose. Founder Jimmy Doan was named to the Top 25 Motor Vehicle Trial Lawyers in 2026, and insurers know which firms are prepared to go to court. What should you not tell your insurance company after a crash? Avoid apologizing, guessing about speed or distances, or saying you feel fine before a doctor has checked you. Anything you say in a recorded statement can be used to argue you share the blame, which matters under Texas rules that cut your recovery by your percentage of fault. The Doan Law Firm can handle those calls for you from the start. What is the biggest mistake people make with a car accident claim? Delaying medical treatment is one of the most costly. Gaps between the crash and your first doctor visit give insurers room to argue your injuries came from something else. Whether you go to Midland Memorial Hospital or an urgent care clinic, get checked quickly. Midland clients of The Doan Law Firm say the team helped them arrange treatment within about a week. How much can you get for pain and suffering in Texas? There is no fixed formula or cap in ordinary Texas car accident cases. The amount depends on how serious your injuries are, how long recovery takes and how the crash changed your daily life. The Doan Law Firm documents both economic losses and non-economic harm, such as pain, mental anguish and physical impairment, before negotiating with insurers. What is the hardest injury to prove after a car accident? Injuries that don't show up on an X-ray, like whiplash, soft tissue damage, mild traumatic brain injury and post-crash anxiety, are often the hardest to prove. Consistent treatment records, doctor notes and a daily pain journal help. The Midland team investigates beyond the police report to build evidence that insurers can't easily dismiss. Can I get compensation for anxiety after a car accident? Yes, Texas law allows recovery for mental anguish when it is tied to the crash and properly documented. Fear of driving, trouble sleeping and panic attacks after a wreck on I-20 or SH 191 are real harms. The Doan Law Firm can connect clients with trusted medical professionals so these effects are recorded and valued fairly. How likely is it to get sued after a car accident in Midland? Most crash claims settle through insurance without anyone being personally sued, especially when the at-fault driver carries at least the Texas minimum of 30/60/25 coverage. Lawsuits become more likely when injuries are serious and exceed the policy limits. If you have received a demand letter or lawsuit, call The Doan Law Firm at (432) 653-0000 to talk through your options. When should you contact a Midland car accident lawyer?
