How Cases Are Acquired

Gamers usually get cases through three main approaches:

1. Weekly Drops: Active gamers who level up their profile rank when a week are rewarded with a randomized item drop, which frequently includes a case from the present active drop pool.
2. The Steam Community Market: Players looking for specific older or terminated cases can buy them directly from other players.
3. Third-Party Trading Platforms: Trusted external sites allow gamers to buy, offer, or trade cases utilizing real-world currency or crypto.
