Pack light and pack neutral. Bright colours and white stand out on a game drive and show dust instantly. Olive, khaki and muted grey are standard.

Bring layers: Mara mornings are cold at altitude, afternoons are hot, and open vehicles add wind. A fleece, a light rain shell and a wide brim hat cover most days.

Skip the heavy camera bag clutter: one body, a 100-400mm range lens and spare batteries. Binoculars matter more than a second lens. Avoid blue and black clothing on walking safaris because tsetse flies respond to those colours. Carry water, sunblock, Go to the website insect repellent and any prescription medicine in hand luggage. Full kit notes are at %LINK%.
